

SUMMER ARTS

The Reach Gallery Museum Abbotsford

UnMasked —14-24yrs Youth Arts Action Heritage-FREE

Calling young artists, actors, dancers, writers,
songwriters, activists!

Are you concerned about the environment,
poverty, violence or other social issues?

Join us for these FREE interactive sessions as artists show & tell about how they use arts for change. No arts experience necessary.

Wednesday July 28

Gwynne Hunt-writer, director, producer

Gwynne has written and produced 15 plays including the acclaimed Breadlines, Mudflaps and Missing. Explore spoken word to poetry slam and exercises and sketches to spark creativity.

Lee Kwidzinski-dancer, choreographer

In addition to her award-winning work as a dancer, choreographer Lee has organized dance performances to raise funds for a variety of causes and facilitated community based intergenerational dance projects. She'll lead a creative movement session.

*****

Starting in August, through sessions in music, drama and dance, you can participate in creating a social action theatre piece with opportunities from solo to group that will be developed and performed this fall at The Reach.

Workshops are free and light refreshment is provided. For more information or to register simply call 604-864-8087 x111 or email yaah@thereach.ca

The YAAH project is made possible by a donation from the Telus Vancouver Community Board & the support of Prospera Credit Union
